

Junior Prom Preparations Are Now Being Concluded

Preparations for the July '50 Class Junior Promenade, which will take place at the Emerson Hotel on Friday, January 27, are being concluded. It was announced by Emerson V. Clarke, Jr., and Charles M. Clark, co-presidents of the class.

An incomplete return of questionnaires circulated to all members of the class to determine whether or not the dance will be formal and whether or not the class prefer corsages and favors indicates that the prom will be formal and that corsages will be worn and favors given.

Also, Bill Malsel's orchestra has been selected to play at the dance.

Open To Whole School

Following a meeting of the Prom Committee on Friday, November 25, it was made known that the affair would be open to all Loyola students. The Committee added that the capacity of the ballroom at the Emerson is between 400 and 500 couples.

The Committee, which was organized early this year, consists of Clarke and Clark, co-presidents of the class; Charles Sybert, class secretary; Robert Bourbon, class treasurer; Lawrence Davis; Lawrence Mohr; and Francis DeMarco.

Tickets To Go On Sale Soon

Next week the Prom Committee will form a Ticket Committee and a Program Committee, whose duty it will be to decide upon the ticket prices, have the tickets printed and distributed, procure advertisements for the program, and decide upon a theme for the dance.

The Committee hopes to have prom tickets on sale in the cafeteria shortly thereafter.

The Rev. John J. Scanlan, S. J., is moderator of the July '50 Class.

Rules For Five Medals Change

Regulations for awarding five of the twelve gold honor medals given to Loyola students for outstanding scholarship have recently been changed.

Affected by this change are the Carrell Gold Medal for Biology, the McNeal Gold Medal, the Carrell Gold Medal for English, the Whiteford Gold Medal, and the McTavish Gold Medal. Henceforth only seniors will be eligible to receive them.

The Carrell biology medal will go to the student majoring in biology who attains the highest average in all his biology courses.

Likewise, the McNeal medal will be awarded to the chemistry major who earns the highest average in all his chemistry courses.

The Carrell English medal will be given to the student majoring in English who writes the best 3,000-word essay on an English topic selected by the Dean and the head of the department.

A similar procedure will be used to award the Whiteford medal, which is given for an historical essay.

The McTavish medal will go to the physics major attaining the highest average in all his physics courses.

Loyolans Will Debate Today

Loyola's Robert Bellarmine Debating Society will engage in its first intercollegiate debate of the year when two of its members—James Dietz and Harry Shock—uphold the affirmative side of the topic "Resolved: That the United States should nationalize all the basic nonagricultural industries" against

Washington College in the Evergreen Library this afternoon at 3:15.

This will be the first in a series of four intercollegiate debates on the Bellarmine schedule for December, announced Mr. James A. Perrott, moderator of the society.

The second debate will take place in the Loyola Library on Sunday, December 4, when Robert Shea and Clark Corcoran will take the affirmative side against a visiting team from Catholic University.

On Thursday, December 8, Daniel Downey and Gayle Phillips will go to Georgetown University to uphold the negative against that school's team.

Edward O. Clarke, Jr., president of the society, and Francis X. Trainor will defend the affirmative stand against debaters from the College of the Holy Cross on Friday, December 9.

The group continues its intraclub series when Richard Cadigan and Edward McNeal argue the affirmative against William Klarner and Adam Lewandowski, who will take the negative sides, in Room 1-F on Tuesday, December 6.

Improvement Work Done On Evergreen Campus

Although overshadowed perhaps by the construction of Our Lady's Chapel of Evergreen, considerable maintenance and improvement work is being done on other parts of the campus. Very recently, new concrete steps leading from the end of the Library Building walk to the dell were constructed, complete with railing.

The Library Building itself has had its window frames painted, and new shrubbery has been planted in front of the building near the tennis courts. During the summer, repair work was done on the masonry.

Jan. '50 Class Begins Manresa Retreat Dec. 11

Members of the January '50 graduating class will attend special retreat exercises at Manresa-on-Severn beginning Friday, December 9, and continuing through Sunday, December 11.

The retreat marks the beginning of class activity leading up to the graduation exercises on January 29.

Obligatory For Catholics

These spiritual exercises are obligatory for all Catholic students in the January '50 Class except those who have elected to participate in the Alumni Association's annual retreat, which will start this evening and continue through Sunday, December 4.

An invitation to attend both of these retreats has been extended to all non-Catholic members of the class as well.

The Rev. Joseph A. d'Inyilliers, S. J., under whose guidance the senior retreat has been organized, announced that all those going to Manresa must have paid a fee of $15.00 before the end of today.

Senior Week Preparations Made

Preparations for the January '50 Class's Senior Week have been made, with Daniel Rochowiak, vice-president of the class, and Carter Beese, secretary, acting as co-chairman on the Senior Week Committee.

The class will hold its banquet at Hausner's restaurant on Saturday, January 22.

New Exemption Rules

According to a recent announcement by the office of the Dean, only those students who achieve a semester average mark of 90 or above in each and every subject will be eligible for exemption from semester examinations.

A student may no longer earn an exemption in one subject, while having to take the semester examination in another. He is either exempted from all or from none.

Glee Club Carol Program To Be Held December 11

More than sixty voices of the Loyola College Glee Club, accompanied by William Yanuzzi, pianist, and directed by Mr. Felice Inla, conductor, will be heard in the group's annual Christmas program, to be held in Evergreen's Alumni Gymnasium on Sunday, December 11, at 4:00 p.m.

The program, which will contain seventeen choral and instrumental selections, will be preceded by fifteen minutes of organ music, with Mr. John Eltermann, noted Baltimore musician, at the console. It will be followed by a reception for the guests.

Mr. Felice S. Inla

Tenor Solo Featured

Beginning with O Come, Emmanuel, a Thirteenth Century plain song, the Glee Club will follow with the traditional hymn Adeste Fideles. After this will come Sing Noct, with Edward Dorian, tenor, and Jean J. Gunning, bass, singing the solo parts.

The program will continue with a tenor solo by Dorian, who will render Where'er You Walk, from Haendel's oratorio Semele. The entire chorus will then be heard in Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming and Bring a Torch, Jeanette, Isabelle.

Following this will be a Southern Appalachian Mountain Carol, The Seven Joys of Mary, as interpreted by Robert Schell, bass. Silent Night and Angels We Have Heard on High will then be sung by the entire group.

Violin Solo Follows

After these two traditional hymns Henry Oldewurtel, violinist, will play Adoration, by Borowsky, to be followed by the club's rendition of The First Noct and Carol of the Bells. Salvatore Battaglia, bass-baritone, will sing Gounod's Ad Regem Pastorum.

The Glee Club Quartet—George Bauernschub and Charles Davis, tenors, and Bertram Morales and Jean J. Gunning, basses—will continue the program with a spiritual, Sweet Little Jesus Boy.

Gesù Bambino and The Sleigh (à la Russe) will be the concluding selections by the chorus, after which the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., president of Loyola, will deliver a short Christmas message to the guests.

Special invitations to this program of carols have been prepared and will be sent to all Loyola parents.

Television Receiver Given To Meehan

Representing the students of Loyola College, Emilio Blanco, Oliver Krastell, Edward McNeal, Martin O'Connor and Richard Wojtek presented Alan Meehan with the television set that was purchased for him by the contributions of his schoolmates, at Children's Hospital on Saturday, November 26.

Alan, a Loyola athlete, was stricken suddenly with poliomyelitis a little over a month ago, and until recently he has been unable to receive visitors.

By a spontaneous collection from the student body, the Student Council was able to collect enough money to buy a large set, with a twelve-inch screen and a built-in aerial.

Chapel Construction Progresses

THE EXCAVATION COMPLETED, the foundation of Our Lady's Chapel of Evergreen is now being laid. In addition gas, water and sewage pipes have been put down.

Congress, Leaders' Union Planned By Regional NSA

An N. S. A. regional meeting was held at Trinity College on Sunday, November 20. Planning of the regional congress, an association of student government presidents and a national symposium on education were considered. The regional congress for the Mason-Dixon region has been postponed until some time in the spring.

An association of student-government presidents was formed which will include all the student presidents of Baltimore and Washington colleges and universities and which has for its purpose the strengthening of the student governments of those schools.

A project of the national sub-committee on legislation is a national symposium planned for December 8 in Washington. Headed by Richard Smith of Catholic University, the commission's purpose is to formulate opinion on all educational legislation introduced into the United States' Congress.

Other plans include the formation of a purchase card system in order to reduce the student's cost of living. This plan is already in effect in other regions and has proved very successful under N. S. A. sponsorship.

Richard Cadigan, regional president and Loyola delegate, has appointed Richard Smith to represent him at the national executive committee meeting in Madison, Wisconsin, on December 16.

Sale Of Christmas Cards Here Benefits Jesuit Missions

A selection of Christmas cards has been made available to Loyola students by the Rev. John C. Baker, S. J., of the Maryland Province Mission Bureau of the Society of Jesus. Proceeds from the sale of these cards will go to the Jesuit Missions in India.

The price of 12 cards is $1.00 while 50 may be purchased for $3.50. Cards can be obtained at the booth in the cafeteria and in the bookstore.

Sodality Will Film Mass And Hold Devotion

Color slides of the Mass will be among the many projects of the Junior and Senior Sodalties during the next few months. They have also planned a day of recollection and carried out a tedium of Masses and Communions for the Pope.

This week the Junior Sodality began to make color slides of the Mass under the direction of Kenneth Gelman. These slides will be put into the files of the Sodality for future use by the school. Either a recording will be made to accompany the slides, or a paper to be read at their display will be composed.

Both Sodalties will join forces to present a Day of Recollection on a future date. Another future plan of the Sodalties is the instruction of those who wish to become altar boys under the direction of the Eucharistic Committee.

On December 2, 3 and 4, the Sodalties are sponsoring a triduum of spiritual bouquets of Masses and Communions which will be collected and sent to Rome for the intentions of the Pope. The Sodalties are combining forces on a Christmas party for orphans and a watch party on New Year's Eve.

Student Council Passes Bill To Aid Cosmopolites

After consideration of one constitutional bylaw, the Student Council at its November 17 meeting approved a motion by Eugene P. Cierigau of the Cosmopolitan Club whereby it was requested that the addressograph files in the Registrar's Office contain the home addresses together with the temporary boarding addresses of out-of-town students.

Physicist Talks On Radiation

Today's meeting of the Angelo Secchi Academy will feature a lecture on X-rays, which will be given by John Panzarella. Loyola's physics club, now in its fifty-fourth year, meets every Friday at 1:30 p.m.

Trips to several laboratories are being planned. Last year's group visited the naval research center at Silver Spring, Md., where they witnessed a wind-tunnel in operation.

Daniel M. Rochowak spoke on the differences between the beta-ray and the cyclotron at the last meeting. Mr. Walter S. Dawkins was the first guest-speaker of the year. The topic of his talk was Planck's constant, a mathematical expression dealing with the relationship of energy and wave-length.

Elections will be held in the near future to select officers for the remainder of the year since several of the present officers will be graduated in January.

Alumni Doings

Lack Of Alumni News Refutes Criticism Of Paper By Alumni

by John J. Pugh, '43

By the time this issue reaches those who are concerned, the annual Alumni Retreat will, for better or worse, be an accomplished fact. Before it is laid to rest with the other facts of the past, however, there will be a report concerning it in the next appearance of this column. That report will be a factual and, it is to be hoped, a favorable one.

At present writing, the author of this column is placed in somewhat the position of a duck with three left feet. Supposedly, this space in the publication best serves the interests of the individual alumni when it is occupied by facts concerning some individual members which are presumed to be of interest to other individual members. That there are such facts no one seriously questions. That they are to date available in this column I, for one, question; and, believe me, I am in the position to know.

It does little good to complain that this paper fails to serve the alumni when those gentlemen themselves continually refuse to involve themselves in the relatively simple procedures necessary to place the information into the hands of those who would be delighted to accomplish this purpose IF THEY COULD. The author of this column has neither received the training, academically speaking, nor has he the inclination, vocationally speaking, to be a ferret of elusive facts.

We hope that this editorializing frks and hold as a policy that not one line shall again be devoted to it, provided facts are submitted for which the same space can be used. Send information to Frank Sweeney in the Evening School Office—Chesapeake 1020.

Out-Of-Towners To Give Dance

The Cosmopolitan Club has planned an on-campus dance in the near future. Only members of the club will be invited, along with members of the Kynry Club of Notre Dame. The dance is an effort on the part of the Cosmopolites to repay the hospitality extended by the NDM girls earlier this year.

A plan is being developed between the Cosmopolitan Club and the Athletic Association whereby a Boosters Club would be formed to promote school spirit among the students and to get an enthusiastic cheering section for the basketball games and other athletic contests.

A bill was introduced before the Student Council by Eugene Corrigan, secretary of the club, and approved. The motion suggested that the addressograph files in the Registrar's Office contain the home addresses together with the temporary addresses of boarding students. This would prevent the misdirection of mail to these students, especially during the vacation period and just before school begins.

At the meeting of the Cosmopolites on November 16, copies of the constitution of the club were distributed to the members. It was decided that $1.00-a-year dues should be collected from each member by the Treasurer, Michael Zedalls and that membership cards for the year 1949-50 be distributed.

News In Brief

Loyola's cafeteria has started jumping. A "juke box" has been installed near the section reserved for the faculty. Student favorites to date have been "Mule Train" and "Build A Bungalow."

Mr. D. Vincent Provenza, former instructor in biology, is due to return to Evergreen in January. Mr. Provenza left Loyola at the end of last semester to attend the University of Maryland, where he is now studying for his doctorate in biology.

Winston Kourey, July '49 is seriously ill with an eye ailment. The disease has caused him to become temporarily blinded. The Dean requests the students' prayers at the last assembly.

Robert J. McDonough, July '50 BS-II, was married to the former Miss Ester M. Romesberg on Thanksgiving Day. The ceremony was conducted at Sacred Heart Church, Highlandtown.

FORMER AIR CORPS Fliers—Edward Frederick, John Cronin, Bertram Morales and Robert Fenka look longingly into the "wild blue yonder" as Melvin Beeher points out a passing B-29 he used to fly.

Former Air Pilots Yearn For The Wild Blue Yonder

If you ever walk around the campus and notice a group of students with their heads in the air and their eyes fixed on a far-off cloud, you can rest assured that they're neither stuek-up nor dreaming. They look to the sky because that's where their hearts are; for these are the bird-men of Loyola College.

There are more than half a hundred of these men on campus who have either flown solo, or in combat crews, or who are even now engaged in CAP activities and Air Force Reserve work. Some, like John Cronin, have many tales to tell. Others, like Ed Fredericks, are quiet about their air records.

Cronin, for example, was a navigator in the last war and flew in B-17s, A-26s (attack bombers), and the OA-10-A (aircraft designed for either land or sea operations). Once, off Cape Hatteras, his ship spotted a life boat from a sunken Norwegian vessel floundering on the high sea. John's skipper relayed the location of the boat ashore and the crew, including one woman, who were jammed into the lifeboat were all rescued.

All the flyers on the campus who were interviewed seemed to have had narrow escapes. One flyer had the unpleasant sensation of a broken prop ripping through his compartment, missing him by scant inches, and passing out the other side of the plane.

Construction Work Makes Ghost Town Of Cafeteria

A strange and mysterious thing has happened to the campus. No longer do happy Mask and Rapier members loiter around THE GREYHOUND office and snarl at the editor, who is trying to evict them.

No longer do carefree lads with free periods bill on the steps of the Library Building or argue philosophy over coffee cups in the cafeteria. Everyone who is free now has a new pastime. They watch the building of the new chapel.

For teachers, who cannot possibly hope to cope with the lustre of a steam shovel in the sunlight or the allure of digging workmen, a new handbook has been prepared by the Bureau of Useless Information with new suggestions on how to the courses in with the building construction.

Sociologists Added

Sociology courses, for example, can go out and interview the workmen as to living conditions, working hours, wages and other personal information otherwise unavailable. The least that they can obtain by this method of interrogation is a shovel on the head.

Biologists can study the worms that are beginning to surface to investigate all the noise. English students can write attractive essays on Chaucer's Influence On Present-Day File Drivers.

Study For Math Majors

Language students can go out en masse and listen to the delightful mysterious language used by the workmen under certain conditions, like dropping a hammer on one's toe, for example. Math majors can compute how many man-hours are wasted in stopping for coffee, and accounting experts can account for the lack of industry on the part of the spectators watching the whole project.

So, all in all, it's an ill wind that blows nobody no good.

NFCCS Plans Forum Dec. 10

The National Federation of Catholic Students will sponsor a Workshop at Immaculata Junior College, Washington, on December 10. The meeting is being held in conjunction with the National Catholic Welfare Conference and the Newman Clubs.

The purpose of the Workshop is to acquaint Catholic college students with the need for Catholic lay leaders in the world today. The day's program will begin with Mass at 9:00 a. m. in Immaculata's Chapel.

Prominent lay leaders and clergy will highlight the program, which follows immediately after Mass. All Loyola students who are interested are invited to attend.

Edward Pula, NFCCS senior delegate, has announced that the monthly meeting of the Washington-Baltimore region will convene at Dunbarton College, Washington, on December 11. Plans are being made to accommodate Loyola delegates overnight at Georgetown University.

For The Missions

The Jesuit Mission Bureau of the Maryland Province is once again sponsoring the sale of Christmas cards, the proceeds from which will be used to aid the missions in India. The cause deserves the sincere consideration of every Loyola student.

The cards have been carefully prepared to provide for the needs of students and their families. They are attractive and economical. Each student will undoubtedly purchase some Christmas greeting cards. Why not go to the campus shop and obtain these cards? The student who buys these will not only be able to present his friends with a suitable Christmas greeting, but he will be aiding the needy missions in India.

Let's Hope For More

The alumni recently played the role of host to the student body when they held a dance after the annual Alumni-Varsity game. The affair was a huge success. It afforded an opportunity for both alumni and students to enjoy an evening together.

THE GREYHOUND wishes to express its thanks to the Alumni Association on behalf of the student body. It is to be hoped that this event is but the first in a series of get-togethers which will allow the alumni and students to become better acquainted. These socials need not be held after basketball games. Many other school activities present a similar possibility.

From The Reader

To the editor of THE GREYHOUND:
Sir:

Undoubtedly, quite a number of students at Loyola are unaware that they have a literary publication called The Quarterly, and that its success or failure is in direct proportion to the interest and co-operation of the student body. Such an unhappy state of affairs is not peculiar to The Evergreen Quarterly, for it seems that there is but a small percentage of students who form the nucleus of the majority of campus activities.

Perhaps, in one sense, the fault may be due to the organizations themselves, but if this be the case, it is also true that the defects can be easily obviated by the action of the student body. Negative criticism has little value unless it is supported by constructive advice and aid. Our particular concern for the moment, however, is not the whole of extra-curricular activity, but rather The Evergreen Quarterly.

It is a successful magazine if we can believe our critics. It does offer tremendous opportunities to the aspiring writer. This is immediately evident upon scanning our mailing lists and consulting our files of incoming mail from well-known literary figures.

It can, nevertheless, be improved. Moreover, it should be improved. We, therefore, earnestly solicit the support of every student interested in either writing or literary research and criticism. The Quarterly offices are in the basement of the Science Building.

Sincerely yours,

DAVID L. McMANUS

From the Library

Thackeray always rode backwards on the stagecoach; he liked to know where he'd been. He had a point there. As Chesterton says, modern man doesn't know where he's going because he forgets where he's been. Ignorance of history is dangerous.

Are events moving so fast that you've missed their causes and meaning? Would you like to review the last ten years, play by play, on a slow-motion camera? Catch up with the times by recalling what happened when. See the newly acquired Diary of World Events, 54 volumes of reprinted news clippings from 1939 to 1949. Indexed and illustrated, this is invaluable for theses in modern history.

So are our unpublished newspaper clippings of Foreign Events, 1940-41, from the private files of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies. They're classified under headings like Labor and the War, Fifth Column and How It Works, The French Peace, Poland and Czechoslovakia, and Public Opinion.

Communist Offenses

While Mr. Vishinsky craftily wields his weapons of objection and procrastination at Lake Success, the Chinese Communists are committing unrepented indignities against the honor of the United States. The seizure of Angus Ward and William N. Stokes by the quasi-government of Communist China is a serious affront to the government of this nation. Some steps must be taken by the United States if it is to hold the respect of the Asiatics.

But if we are to act, that action should be effective; it must aim at the real cause of the offense. That cause is Soviet Russia. Diplomatic, or even armed, attacks against Communist China will afford no lasting solution. Pressure must be brought to bear on Soviet Russia.

Communist China hears only the orders of the Kremlin, and Moscow will heed only positive action, not words.

Recorders Plugging Studio Orchestras

by Larry Davis

Latest wrinkle in the promotional schemes of the big recording companies is the build-up being given to studio hands. As the reader is probably aware, vocalists, both male and female, are presently the chief marketable good of the disc producers, and the companies are now trying to cash in on some of the popularity which the accompanying orchestras are gathering.

Capitol led the way with several fine instrumental discs by Paul Weston, and now Columbia has big plans for Axel Stordahl, former arranger and conductor for Frank Sinatra. Victor, however, has what looks like the best bet in Ralph Flanagan, one of Perry Como's numerous arrangers.

So far Mr. Flanagan's only claim to a somewhat dubious individual fame has been a very good album entitled A Tribute To Glen Miller, in which he faithfully reproduced the famous Miller sound and style, despite the fact that he had never worked for, nor even met, the late trombonist-leader. He had worked for Sammy Kaye and then for a service band with later stints for Tony Pastor and Hal McIntyre.

His present recordings are still very Miller-like, although Victor makes little mention of this. It seems they have a certain Tex Beneke on the payroll, and this makes for a very interesting situation. The hand is still in the category of a studio band, but if his recordings continue to match their initial success, it will become a permanent one and start the usual name band tours.

Running With The Hounds

by Bob Bourbon

After neatly disposing of an outwinded Alumni five, in their 1949-50 home debut, and then coming back last Saturday night to upend a strong Virginia Tech team, Loyola's basketball Greyhounds have given early-season showings of mid-season form.

Tonight the Hounds have a bone to chew with the Terriers of St. Francis College, Brooklyn, the first of eight foes to be met before Christmas, and the Empire State quintet shapes up as being a great deal stronger than the first two opponents which the Green and Grey has faced. It was this same outfit that finished one notch ahead of the third-place Loyola team in last year's Catholic Invitational tourney, and they were no pushover then. With an almost completely veteran team, they'll be less than that this year.

The Varsity's performance against VPI was interesting, to say the least. Loyola was hitting from the floor with consistency, and several of Bob Anderson's under-the-basket shots left the spectators aghast. Anderson, with 30 points for the evening, was one of the outstanding players of the game. In addition to his repertoire of trick stuff, he's developed a deadly set shot. He'll be a good guy to have around.

Team Seems Advanced

The Greyhounds took 66 shots, out of which they made 29, for an average of .439. Anderson made 13 out of 18; Team Captain Mike Zedalis was successful in eight out of 15; Frank Barrett, three out of six; Bill Johnson, three out of 10; and Andy O'Donnell, two out of eight. The game was also played very cleanly, each team drawing only 18 fouls. These figures aren't incredible, nor are they astounding. But they are good.

Bill Johnson, who for a better part of last season was up among the nation's leading foul shots, has begun this year's campaign with a bang. He was good for seven out of eight at the white line Saturday night.

The visitors' elongated center, Sumner Tilson, also had a pretty fair night under the hoops, displaying both a right and a left-handed hook shot, which was effective to the tune of 24 points.

King, Arizin To Play At Evergreen

During games at Evergreen this month, Loyola fans will be treated to a look-see at a pair of possible, maybe probable 1950 All-Americans, when George King, of Morris-Harvey, and Villanova's Paul Arizin trot out on the home court.

King ranked second in national scoring last year, with 525 points, and Arizin paced his Wildcat teammates with 594 points, for fourteenth ranking.

Incidentally, Villanova, which some time ago received a bid to the four-team Sugar Bowl Tournament, is already touted as one of THE top teams of the east, and a SRO crowd should witness their tussle with the Green and Grey, on December 19.

Powerful Opponent

Lest anyone get over-optimistic about the Greyhounds' chances in the Mason-Dixon Conference this year, it is well to remember that, among others, American University is back, bigger and better than last year. The Eagles' Coach, Mr. Staff Cassell by name, expects the 1949-50 season to be the best his cagers have ever experienced. Chief among his returning letter-men are Bob Lamou and Ronnie Garshag, both of whom stand well above the one-fathom mark, and who, in three games between Loyola and American University last season, tallied over one hundred points between themselves.

Little Boy Blue Don't Wear Out Your Horn

In a recent edition of the University of Baltimore's school paper, The Baloo—a question is directed to THE GREYHOUND: "Has anyone in the Charles and Cold Spring Kennels been watching the local soccer picture?" This query is directly adjoining an editorial in which the writers hum the praises of their own soccer team and, in rather colorful language, tell of the "scars" which they have inflicted on their many "victims" this year.

Gentlemen, we congratulate you on winning the Mason-Dixon soccer championship; you had to beat Loyola on your way. But success, sometimes, to someone who doesn't know how to handle it, is a lot like new wine. It goes to one's head.

Records speak for themselves. The Bees have stung the Greyhounds but once in an athletic event since sometime more than four years ago. 'Nuff said?

Harriers Place In Tournament

by Robert McKelvy

Loyola College's cross-country team topped off their season's competition by placing fourth in the eighth renewal of the Mason-Dixon championships, held on November 21, at Bridgewater, Va.

Roanoke College netted the low score of 27 to capture team honors of the meet. The speedy Southerners placed five men out of the first eleven across the finish line.

Davenport Wins

Bruce Davenport gathered individual laurels for the victors, covering the three-and-three-quarter mile course in 19 minutes and 46 seconds. He barely edged Merle Crouse of Bridgewater, who followed him by a short three paces.

George Brown was the first Greyhound to score, finishing in 13th place. Tom Volatile, Joe Paszek, Mike Callanan, and John Coyne followed Brown in 16th, 19th, 22nd, and 24th places, respectively, giving the Hounds a team score of 94.

Mike Callanan, who finished 22nd in the field of 52, looked like the dark horse of the day as he led the pack for the first mile and a quarter.

Roanoke Leads

Behind Roanoke College in the order of scoring were Bridgewater, 68; Washington College, 72; Loyola College, 94; Hampden-Sydney, 136, and Johns Hopkins, 172. Gallaudet and American University had only single entries, while Randolph-Macon withdrew altogether because of team injuries.

With the cold weather an additional handicap, many of the normally thinclad harriers were forced to don gloves and extra gear as protection against the raging wind and a short snow flurry.

Goodman Anticipates Success Despite Loss Of Three Champs

Despite graduation losses which are depleting his staff of able performers, Wrestling Coach Phil Goodman nevertheless possesses an optimistic outlook for the coming season.

Gone from last year is "Mus" Bower, who for three straight years held the runnerup slot in the Mason-Dixon championships. "Jeep" Mueller, for two league campaigns the heavyweight champion, has retired, and Frauny Meagher is due to receive his sheepskin in January. Meagher was the 165-lb. titlist in 1946, and again last year.

With losses like these, clearly the man is an optimist.

Experienced Returnees

Experienced returning grapplers are Mike Harris and Bill LaHatte in the 121-lb. class, Ted Haupt in the 128-lb. division, team captain Johnny Mercaido in the 136's, George Freidel in the 165-lb. bracket, and Carter Beese, who in 1947 and '48 has been the 175 lb. conference champ.

Aspirants to the heavyweight role are Jack Hilet and Jack Fenwick.

Bobby Weiss, who last season wrestled in the 121-lb. class, recently underwent a serious operation and will be lost for the year. However, Bok is supporting the team by acting as a coaching assistant.

Batemann Out With Injury

Injuries also have taken their toll on the team. Freshman Bernie Bateman, who loomed as a likely successor to the retired Mueller, PANCY-STEPPING BOB ANDERSON is caught by the camera's eye as he is fouled by Sumner Tilson, of Virginia Tech, in last Saturday night's game.

Cagers Top VPI, 72-58; Anderson, Zedalis Star

by Gene Conroy

Led by Bob Anderson, who accounted for 30 points during the evening, Loyola's cagers opened their '49-'50 intercollegiate season on a successful key last Saturday night, as they handed Virginia Polytechnic Institute a 72 to 58 setback.

Anderson was ably assisted in the scoring column by Mike Zedalis, captain of this year's team, and Billy Johnson, who garnered 16 and 13 points, respectively.

The Techmen were the first to hit the scoring books as Sumner Tilson, who led his teammates in pointmaking with 24 markers, laid one up for a 2-to-0 lead.

Zedalis deadlocked the score at 2-to-2 with an outside set. Gene Jones of V. P. I. and Johnson swapped baskets to raise the count to 4 to 4.

Loyola Takes Early Lead

For the next minute and a half, the Gobblers and Greyhounds traded point for point. As the scoreboard clock showed two minutes of game time had elapsed, Zedalis drove in for a layup and two points. This field goal gave Loyola the lead which they did not relinquish for the rest of the contest.

With Anderson and Zedalis showing the way, the Green and Grey basketballers ran off in a 13-point lead, 35 to 22, as the 16 minute mark of the first half passed. Virginia Poly closed the gap to 10 points, however, as the half time score read 37 to 27.

Gobblers Peck At Hounds' Lead

For the first nine minutes of the second half, the two teams played on even terms as neither squad was able to put together a scoring spurge.

The Virginians lowered the count to 49 to 42, but the College rang up seven quick points to mount the score to 56 to 42. A string of eleven markers by Dick Sayre and Tilson then narrowed the margin to six points at 59 to 53.

In the last five minutes of the ball game, the Green and Grey once again pulled away from the travelers from down South. When the final buzzer sounded the official scorers tabbed the count as 72 to 58.

LC To Face Two Quints

This evening in New York, Loyola's basketball team will face a hardwood outfit bent on revenge. St. Francis of Brooklyn will provide the opposition, and they will walk on the floor of the 14th Regiment Armory, determined to avenge the 66 to 64 defeat imposed on them last year by the Greyhounds.

There is no denying the fact that they have the material to accomplish this feat. The Terriers will have four of last year's top six men returning for another campaign.

O'Connor Paces St. Francis

Chief threat for the Flatbush Five will be Tom O'Connor, the gentleman who paced St. Francis to the runner-up spot in last year's National Catholic Invitation Tournament in Denver.

The shifty forward, picked on last year's All-Catholic team, is rather small, 5 foot-10 inches in height and 165 pounds-heavy, but he continually harrasses the opposition with swift-cutting, hard-driving layups, and a deadly set-shot.

Hounds To Vie With Teachers

Other returning regulars helping O'Connor will be Bill Paterno, Levi Bough, and Bob Reardon, who was chosen the most promising player in the Denver Tourney.

Next Tuesday, the Greyhounds will journey to Towson to renew their court series with State Teachers College. Only one regular will be missing from last year's Black and Gold outfit. He is Harry Hilstend.

Teachers Abound in Material

Returning for another season will be Bobby Watson, 6 foot-5 inch Bud Ritter, 6 foot-7 inch Warren Sloh and George Klimmet, former All-Maryland star at City College.

The vacant spot in the starting lineup will probably be filled by another tall boy, Charlie Hilstrom.

Varsity Dribblers Score Win Over Alumni In Opener, 81-48

It was friend turned against friend, no quarter asked or given, on the night of Wednesday, November 23, as Loyola's varsity basketballers turned back the Alumni, 81 to 48. The Greyhounds led by 14 points at half-time, and at no point in the game were they seriously threatened.

The "Ohl Grails" made use of a sixteen-man squad, their scoring being paced by Jim Lacy, with 16 markers, and Sid Roche, with 13 points. The rest of their pointmaking was distributed evenly among eight other operatives.

The Green and Grey started slowly, but with Bob Anderson, Frank Barrett, and Mel Baldwin hitting the hoop for 12, 11, and 10 points, respectively, Lefty Reitz's boys had no trouble maintaining a sizable lead.

Wealth Of Material On Hand As Coach Fisher Holds Drills

Loyola's power-laden swimming team began practice several weeks ago in preparation for the coming season, which includes defense of its Mason-Dixon crown. The Loyola mermen will be seeking their third straight conference championship, having annexed top honors in the '47-'48 and '48-'49 seasons.

Thirty aspirants are contending for berths on the team which this year is under the tutelage of Jake Fisher, who was a member of last season's squad.

Blondell, Mohler Holdovers

From this group there are eleven holdovers on which Mr. Fisher can rely. Foremost of these are Jack Bloodell, who is the captain of this season's team, and John Mohler. Jack swims the 440-yard free style and John will once again hold down a diving slot. However, both of these boys are mid-year graduates and will be eligible for only the first few meets.

Ed Miller and Bill Klarner, two more returnees, will be back to hold down the breast stroke positions. Johnny Allen, who last year established a tournament record in the 440 free-style relay, and Andy McCormick will return to aid Blondell in his freestyle efforts. Tom Maskell will be back to handle the back stroke chores. Springboard duties will be in the capable hands of Earl Schmidt and Jacques Gunning.

Fresh Bolster Veterans

Along with these veterans, Coach Fisher is blessed with a host of promising freshmen. Outstanding of these are Burke Bollinger and Bob Muth, M.S.A. champions, at the distance posts.

Jerry Rooney and Charles Leonard are eyeing the free-style spots and Dick Lalley and Marvin Bobbit are making strong bids for the diving berths. Bob Shaw and Jack O'Connor are managing this year's tank aggregation.

However, Jove, who is now recovering from a series of illnesses contracted during the past month, will give in the following issue his views on the big Bowl Games to be played on January 2, 1950.

A. Luzzi Tops Hound Scorers

Having dented the enemies' netting eight times in as many games, Armando Luzzi led Loyola's booters in the scoring column for the '49 season.

Closely following Luzzi, however, was Tommy Lind with six goals to his credit. Jack Whalen, Lou Fontje and Jim Bullington accounted for one each.

As for their season record, the Greyhounds played .500 ball, winning four games and losing a like number. The wins, all of which were scored in conference play, enabled the pluckmen to establish a league log of four wins and two losses.

The other two setbacks were to the University of Maryland, and to Seton Hall College.

Lacy, Bower Named To Coaching Staff

The Athletic Department recently announced the addition of two members to its Coaching Staff in the persons of Jim Lacy and Francis Bower.

Lacy has been appointed as mentor of the Freshman basketball team, while Bower, known to many as "Mus", will assist in coaching the varsity wrestling squad.

Both men are well known at Loyola for their athletic achievements. Bower was a runner-up in the 155-pound class of the Mason-Dixon Wrestling Tournament for three straight years. Lacy was named to the Mason-Dixon Conference All-Star team for four years, and his experience should greatly help the freshmen.

Both graduated with the class of 1949.

Hot Shots Upset Trotters In Season's 'Mural Finale

by Clark Concorn

Football

On Tuesday, November 22, Loyola intramural followers were treated to one of the biggest upsets in 'mural history. The unheard Hot Shots downed the defending champion Globetrotters, 3-0, and took with them the touch-football crown.

The 'trotters came to the important tussle sporting a 12-game winning streak which they had accumulated over a two year span. In contrast, the Hot Shots, a sophomore team, had to be satisfied with a mediocre season and barely edged the Rotor Hears for the right to represent League 1 in the big game.

Strong winds and near-freezing temperatures caused wobbly passes and butter-fingers. Don Semesky, the league's leading passer, found trouble in finding his mark. From the opening whistle it was easy to see that the hard charging Hot Shot forward wall and an able pass defense were going to give the incumbent champs a stiff game.

The sophomores did no better in the first half. Running plays were stopped at the line of scrimmage. Completed aerials were few and far between. First-half action settled down to tight defensive play and a punting duel.

Alumni Bowling

By sweeping three games from '49 while '50 was dropping two of its three games with January '43, the team of '43 pulled into a tie with the front-running team of '50. Individual honors for the week were captured by Jim Turner, '48, whose three games of 130, 119, and 108 added up to a 357 set, a new season high.

Cagers To Meet Trio Of Foes; Two At Home

The Loyola College varsity basketballers face three tests in the near future which should cast a revealing light on the success of the '49-'50 edition of the Hound quintet.

On Saturday, December 10, the talented Green and Grey dribblers will face Morris-Harvey, West Virginia Intercollegiate champions, on the Loyola court. The Golden Eagles, coached by Eddie Kin, boast a record of 18 and 8 for last season.

King Leads The Attack

Led by George King, a prolific scorer who finished second in the country offensively last year with a total of 757 points, an average of 29.1 per game, the Eagles will present a real obstacle for the charges of Emil Reitz.

Two nights later, the Greyhounds will tossle with the University of Baltimore basketballers. Action will take place on the Evergreen hardwood.

Phelps To Captain Bees

The Bees, coached by Frank Skaff and captained by Will Phelps, present a strong threat to the Reitzmen. With one of the finest teams in the history of the Charles Street institution, the busy Bees will be buzzing for a victory.

Wednesday, December 14, finds the Loyola squad trekking to Philadelphia to oppose La Salle College. Under the tutelage of a new coach, Kenneth Loeffer, the North Philadelphians loom as the powerhouse of the East.

Beat Holy Cross

This Quaker-city five is the same quint that, in 1948-49, handed Holy Cross its first home court loss in four years, beating the Crusaders 63 to 61. LaSalle's record for last year was 21 victories, against 7 setbacks, and they were rated among the top offensive teams in the eastern area.

The Explorers boast such able performers as, Larry Foust, who rang up 453 points last year, Ace McCann, and Tom Gallagher. This should be one of the sternest tests for this season's galloping Hounds.

Walt's Athletic Prowess Extends To Many Fields

by Joseph Stedlins

The 1949-'50 edition of the Greyhound basketball machine will take to the door this season with four first stringers returning from last season's powerful quintet. The unenviable task of filling Jim Lacy's shoes has fallen to Walt Shiski, a transfer from Western Maryland. However, a look at Walt's record will prove that Coach Reitz couldn't have picked a better or more capable athlete.

Walt began his cage career while in Junior High. He played sandlot ball all through junior high and for his first three years at Baltimore City College. In his senior year Walt held down a starting position on City's basketball aggregation. The following spring he also took over the first base slot on the Collegians' varsity nine.

Served In Infantry

He graduated from City in 1942 and the following year joined the Army and was stationed with the Infantry in Germany. Here he kept improving his shooting eye by playing basketball in the Frankfurt Regimental League.

In 1946 Walt was discharged from the Army and the following fall matriculated at Western Maryland College. He took his initial fling at soccer while in his freshman year and nailed down the fullback post for both that and the subsequent season. He then gained a starting berth on the Terrors' basketball team and for the next two seasons was among the top three scorers in the Mason-Dixon Conference.

Member Of Golf Team

Walt was also a member of the Western Maryland golf team. He shoots in the middle-seventies and frankly admits he enjoys this sport best of all.

Walt transferred to Loyola in 1948 but was unable to participate in any of these sports due to the transfer-ruling in the Conference. Last spring, however, he did play left field for the Greyhound nine.

Wedding bells rang last June for Walt as he married Jane Taylor, his childhood sweetheart.

Frosh Cagers Win

In their season's opener last Saturday night, at Evergreen, Loyola's freshman basketball team defeated the Fort George Meade dribblers, 55 to 40.

Nap Dougherty, with 14 points, played an important role in his team's victory. The game was played before the featured Varsity-VPI clash.

The Georgia Tech College Inn in Atlanta, Georgia, is a favorite haunt of the Georgia Tech students. That's because the Georgia Tech College Inn is a friendly place, always full of the busy atmosphere of college life. There is always plenty of ice-cold Coca-Cola, too. For here, as in university gathering spots everywhere—Coke belongs.

Mathematics Sideline Attracts Mr. Farris

To many of his students Mr. Hansford Lee Farris, instructor in classical literature and speech at Loyola, appears as a man who has devoted most of his life to the study of the Classics. Mr. Farris reveals that his major interest in prep school was mathematics, for which he still has a liking.

He received his primary and high school education in Richmond, Virginia, his birthplace. After graduation from St. Christopher's Preparatory School, he entered Washington and Lee University.

Two years later he transferred to the University of Texas to study the General Program of the Hu-

After he had been at Texas for nearly three years, Mr. Farris joined the Army and was sent to Yale University for technical training as an Aviation Cadet. He was graduated in 1943 and sent to Europe.

As a liaison officer he saw duty with the Ninth Air Force and the Twelfth Army Group. He returned to the United States on Christmas Eve, 1945. After his discharge he began the study of oriental languages and the classics at Hopkins.

In his first year of teaching at Loyola, Mr. Farris expresses appreciation of the spirit and cooperation of the student body.

Thespians Name Sills President

Joseph Sills succeeds George Herman as president of the Mask and Rapper Dramatic Society.

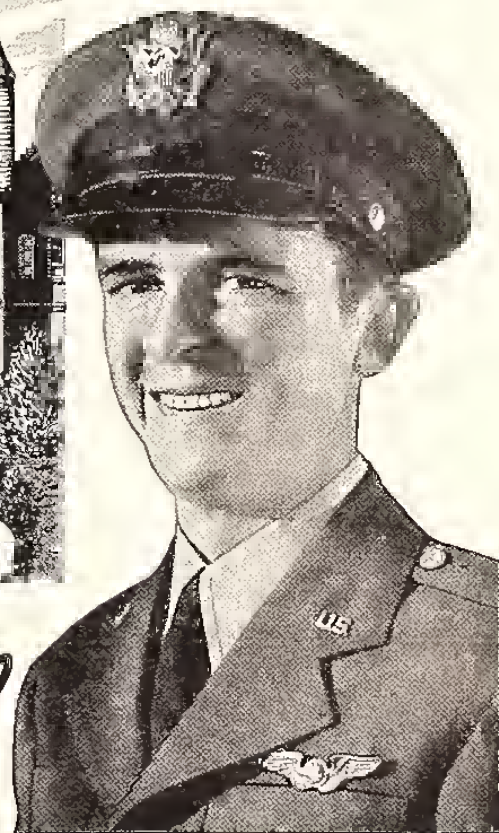

In a letter to the Student Council, Herman explained that he withdrew in favor of Sills because of the pressing obligations of his senior courses.

Herman was elected last Spring to succeed Robert S. Custer, '49. He is author of the recently produced Shubert Alley, Marlyn! and Thy Kingdom Come. Sills is a sophomore.

Emerson Clarke has resigned as vice-president and has been replaced by former Treasurer Howard France. Kenneth Grimm has been named secretary and Norman Karolenko, treasurer.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider a flying career as an officer in the U. S. Air Force. You may be able to meet the high physical and moral requirements and be selected for training. If you do not complete Aviation Cadet training, you may return to civilian life or have opportunity to train for an important officer assignment in non-flying fields.

Air Force officer procurement teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain about these career opportunities. Watch for their arrival or get full details at your nearest Air Force Base, local recruiting station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S.
